

Research Assistant

The Liberty Mutual Research Institute for Safety (LMRIS) in Hopkinton, MA is seeking a Research Assistant to provide specialized support for scientific investigations in the Institute's Center for Disability Research and Center for Behavioral Studies. The assistant will help plan and execute studies, develop and test research methods, collect and organize data, perform advanced statistical analyses, and may contribute to development of scientific publications. Candidates should have survey and field research experience, and strong data management, statistical analysis, communication, and interpersonal skills. Graduate training in psychology, health sciences, or other related area, or > 3 years of relevant post-degree scientific research experience are required. To apply to this position, please visit www.libertymutualgroup.com click on "Careers," "Search Jobs," and enter 06548 in the Job Number field. In addition to formally applying to this posting, you may also email full CVs and statements of interest to cdr\_hiring@libertymutual.com.